

Compliance Solutions

Software Developer (m/f/d) (Stuttgart / Homeoffice)

Compliance Solutions is a constantly growing company that is searching for good employees. To support our growth, we are looking for a Software Developer (m/f/d) for frontend and/or backend development in the area of Legal Tech (Digital Compliance).

You will work closely with our core developers and consulting experts and gain a comprehensive insight into the digitalization of compliance processes for our international customers.

Join us in making digitalization part of a better and fairer world of tomorrow. Our team will actively support you.

Your varied area of responsibility includes

- Active involvement in shaping our agile software development processes in our motivated and international teams
- New development of cloud-based solutions from conception to implementation and launch
- Further development of our software solutions or continuous development of our software solutions
- Realization of exciting and technically sophisticated projects

Your Profile

- Successfully completed degree in computer science or comparable qualification, also welcome for career changers with corresponding experience
- Knowledge of software development, preferably with one of the following programming languages/technologies: C#, JavaScript, T-SQL, Ext JS, Elasticsearch
- Experience in working with relational databases (ideally MSSQL)
- Ability to approach problems in a focused manner and find solutions
- You enjoy trying out new things and bring yourself and your ideas into our team
- Good English (ideally also German) skills complete your profile

What you can expect from us

- Be part of a dedicated, successful team that works together and complements each other to achieve common goals
- A friendly and open working atmosphere
- Employee-friendly benefits such as flexible working hours and home office for a good work-life balance
- New technologies, flat hierarchy and short decision-making paths

Further Benefits

- Team events, table tennis, table football, in-house gym, entertainment offerings, free soft drinks, organic fruit, coffee, and tea...
